Riderless Horse Sends Police On Fruitless Quest

Visions of a young girl having been thrown from a horse and lying seriously injured on some remote bridal path sent police scurrying on a hunt Saturday evening along highways frequented by horseback riders after a horse, fully saddled but without a rider, was reported straying on Central st.

Police learned that the animal had been hired about 11.30 a. m. at the Andover Riding stable by a young girl who said she would use it for about two hours. It is not the custom to rent a horse to a rider without a companion but owing to a misunderstanding the animal was rented to the girl by a lad who was at the stables at the time.

When the horse had not been returned at 4.45 p. m., police were notified and the stray animal was reported on Central street about the same time.

Feeling that the rider had been thrown, police cruisers were quickly pressed into service to search along outlying roads but no trace of the girl was found. As no one had been reported missing by Monday morning police felt that the girl had kept the horse longer than the means of her purse would permit and then abandoned it.

Air - Ground Corps Ready For Tests

A much larger number of planes than those used previously will be engaged in the air raid test over the weekend if good flying conditions prevail.

In preparation for this event the air-ground observer corps met Wednesday night with Albert Cole Jr., civil defense director, for final instructions about the new forms and codes to be used.

The observation post for this area will also be on a new site and if it proves to be more advantageous it will be used regularly. At the last test the Andover observers spotted and reported 32 planes in this area during the two-day trials.

The tests Saturday and Sunday will be held between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m., both days. The local corps has about 10 vacancies. Any one who wants to volunteer for this service should contact the civil defense director at the town house.

Any residents of the town having field glasses which they would be willing to lend to corps for its weekend observation test are requested to notify the director. Several pairs are needed.

Members of the Shawsheen PTA enjoyed an excellent program presented by the children of the school in the school hall last night.

Heart Campaign Raised $1050

Final results of the Heart campaign which was conducted during the month of February showed that $1050 was collected in Andover, a sum which is double that collected a year ago.

In making this final report Mrs. Elizabeth Bolton, chairman of the Andover committee, extends her thanks to all who contributed and helped to make the drive here a success.

Worker Hurt In 12-Foot Fall At New Gym

William J. Deighan of 4 Wood lane, North Andover, a carpenter employed on construction of the new gymnasium at Phillips academy, was seriously injured Tuesday by a 12-foot fall from the top of a basement wall to the concrete floor below.

He was taken in the fire department ambulance to the Lawrence General hospital where he is reported to be suffering from a questionable fracture of the skull and internal injuries. His condition is reported "poor."

The accident happened early Tuesday afternoon and was investigated by Officer James R. Lynch and Roy A. Russell.

L. W. V. Needs Funds To Continue Work

The campaign for funds to continue the work of the Andover League of Women Voters starts this week and will continue through April. The goal has been set at $800.

The League, a non-partisan organization, with a membership of over two hundred in Andover and No. Andover works to promote political responsibility by encouraging informed and active participation of citizens in government. In the past year the Andover League has stressed its voters service program, which provides information on election procedures and on candidates for public office. In cooperation with the Andover Townsman, the league has sent questionnaires to candidates for state and federal and local office. A public meeting of candidates for local offices was held before the elections in March.

A substantial part of the money necessary to sustain these and other activities comes from membership dues, but dues are kept very low to encourage wide participation in league affairs. Thus most of the needed money is raised annually through the solicitation of both members and non-members in Andover and North Andover.

Miss Isabel Hancock of Abbot academy is chairman of the fin-

Haggett's Boat Permits Revoked

All the permits issued this year for boats on Haggett's pond have been revoked until further notice.

This action was taken at a recent meeting of the board of public works which is going to give the whole question of boat permits further consideration. It is expected that a decision relative to the issuance of permits will be reached by May 1.

The board grants about 100 permits annually for Haggett's pond. In recent years only row boats have been allowed on the pond and almost all are for fishing.

Little Constana Melior, a West Andover tot not yet two, was saved from death by drowning last Saturday morning through the prompt and effective action of Mrs. William J. Lane, a Lowell street neighbor, who pulled her from a pool where she was found lying unconscious with only her knees showing above the water.

The near tragedy occurred about 10:55 a.m. when the child was playing with other children in the rear of a barn of the Clover Leaf farm on Lowell street. In the vicinity is a cement pool for ducks and geese in which there was about 2½ feet of water.

From what police could learn, Constana, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Armin A. Melior of Lowell st., fell into the pool while the children were at play, but they apparently did not notice her for several minutes.

Finally Louisa Dodkin, 6, one of her playmates, noticed the stilled form of the little tot lying on her back in the pool with only her knees above the water.

She ran to the Lane home nearby screaming that Constana "had been drowned." Mrs. Lane ran to the pool and lifted the unconscious child from the water and immediately started applying artificial respiration which, police say, undoubtedly saved the life of the youngster.

Meanwhile police and fire headquarters were notified. The fire department ambulance made a quick run to the scene and Sgt. W. R. Hickey also answered the call. Dr. Harry C. East was nearby and gave first aid which he continued to administer in the ambulance while on the way to the Lawrence General hospital.

The child was conscious when the hospital was reached and was later reported to be none the worse for her experience.

Punchard Track Season Opens

The Punchard track team will hold its first home meet at 3.30 p. m. Friday, Apr. 13, with Wellesley, after opening its season yesterday in a meet with Phillips academy's J. V. team.

The Punchard squad has been working hard in afternoon practice sessions and are expected to be strong in the running events. Because of lack of practice the team will be probably weak in field events. As the season progresses and the boys gain experience the team should become better balanced.

During the recent rainy weather the track and outdoor pit are in rather poor condition but the squad is practicing faithfully and looking forward hopefully to a successful season.

Wet Weather—and Walloping Winds

I love 'em both—wet weather and walloping winds. The rhythmic drip, drip off the roof soothes me to quiet slumber, my lawn is being watered free of charge while the garden hose lies snugly coiled, water supplies are being replenished as nature intended. People differ, I agree, on the fascination of driving gales, but surely there is nothing nicer than watching the tree tops giving to the gusts and always coming back as if to say "Let's do it again."

And as I trudge down to the station with coat collar snug around my neck and hat brim dripping small cascades over my shoulders, I wonder if I'm right to treat the rain with such exaggerated respect—as though it were somehow unfriendly. The red setter nosing his way across the park, the chipmunk peering saucily from caves in his stone wall, the robin playing tug-of-war with his anticipated breakfast—they don't bother with raincoats. They take the rain as it comes—and like it.

I like it, too. But I'm also extremely grateful to the engineers and trainmen who make it possible for me to dry out in comfort on my way to work, to read the paper, chat with my friends, and maybe get a head start on the day's work.

Children's Books Now On Exhibition

There are two parts of an exhibit of children's books, published from 1556 to the end of the 19th century, on display at the Memorial Hall library where they may be seen until Apr. 22. The remainder of the entire exhibition is at the Addison Gallery and the Oliver Wendell Holmes library on the Phillips academy campus.

In the main entry to the Memorial

Hall library, the section "The ABC and The Three R's" may be seen. The oldest item is John Calvin's "Catechisme Or Manner To Teache Children The Christian Religion," translated in 1556. Only two copies of this are known to exist. One of the many editions of the most favorite book issued by England's first publisher and printer for juveniles is "A Pretty Book Of Pictures For Little Masters And Misses; Or, Tommy Trip's History Of Beasts And Birds," by J. Newbery, in St. Paul's Churchyard.

In the Young People's room are the fairy tales, fables and folk tales, another part of the collection.

Our Visiting Nurse

The drive which opened April 16, to raise funds for the continuation of the visiting nurse service in Andover is one that deserves support. Andover is fortunate in having this service now and it should be continued for the benefit of our community.

The local Red Cross chapter, on orders from national headquarters, having discontinued its support of this branch of service that had been given in former years, it is now necessary that a specific drive for funds be made.

The goal of $6000 that has been set covers all expenses connected with the service and it is not to be construed as salary for the nurse alone. The raising of $6000 should not be a burden to any one, and the families who have the benefit of this nursing service certainly can appreciate the minimum cost to them.

Just remember all of our townspeople are served if and when occasion requires. Let's all get behind this project and support the Visiting Nurse association of Andover, Inc., and keep the service for the town.

A Sorry Symbol

One of the sorriest symbols of our times is America's automobile accident record.

The summing up for 1950 has just reached us from The Travelers Insurance companies who each year publish an almanac of crash data. Of all the facts about auto accidents in their booklet, the most significant, it seems to us is this:

Almost 500,000 casualties in 1950 were the direct result of speeding. One out of every three Americans who lost their lives in last year's wrecks met death because someone was driving too fast.

Speed has been causing a greater percentage of accidents year after year. In 1950, speed was a greater factor in traffic casualties than at any time in history.

Traffic laws and law enforcement are part of the answer. Engineering will help some. But with perfect roads and perfect police work, the man behind the wheel can continue to exceed the speed limit if he wants to or if he isn't thinking.

Keep this in mind when you drive. Stay within speed limits and you'll be doing your full part in a crusade to reduce automobile accidents by one third.

WATER IN PRESCRIPTIONS

When a prescription calls for drugs to be dissolved in water, you may be surprised to learn that we do not use ordinary drinking water for this purpose.

For although such water is perfectly suitable for drinking, it contains dissolved solids and gases which may cause an undesirable chemical reaction to take place and lessen the effectiveness of the prescription. The dissolved solids in drinking water consist chiefly of the chlorides, sulfates, and bicarbonates of calcium, magnesium, sodium, and potassium. The dissolved gases include carbon dioxide.

For these reasons, whenever water is an ingredient of a prescription we use only Distilled Water — which is water from which most of these dissolved solids and gases have been removed. This is just one illustration of the ways in which we strive to compound each prescription in conformance with the approved techniques of modern prescription practice.

INTERNATIONAL WHIRLIGIG — By John Fisher

Report Unrest Spreading In Many Satellite Countries

Reports of a flare-up in Albania —with its tinder-box possibilities—spotlights but one of several little publicized tension points that prompted General Marshall to paint the world situation as more serious than ever before.

More explosions are likely. Nationalist fanatics are fomenting turmoil from Persia to Morocco. Purges and crack-downs are sweeping the Balkans. High puppet officials are being arrested as traitors, fleeing from their homelands or disappearing into ominous silence.

With army maneuvering weather at hand, a skirmish touching off a revolt, a sudden thrust by Soviet troops in support of a satellite regime, a border incident—sucking mobilized antagonists into the vortex—could burst into a European Korea or the dreaded World War III.

Self interest and cold logic by the great powers may stem a stampede to a global Waterloo. Perhaps the fact of widening internal rifts in stooge states—hence a weakness in military alliances—is the greatest deterrent to Moscow dreams of conquest.

The splits are many and for many different reasons.

Farmers in Almost Open Revolt

Rumania is in an uproar over oil. So inefficiently has the Red bureaucracy managed the rich Ploesti wells that it must ration the small surplus of oil left over after the big exports to Russia. Inept bosses of the nationalized petroleum industry have been dismissed. Even Premier Petru Groza, old Ploughmen's Front (Peasant) leader, is said to be in disgrace.

Absenteeism and open sabotage by industrial workers are reported. Agricultural labor, drawn to factories by the lure of higher pay, has left farms under-manned and bread must be rationed. Farm owners violently resist collectivization. The Reds are so feeble in class warfare against property-owning peasants that 20 per cent of communist membership cards have been cancelled.

In Hungary the DISZ (Communist Youth Organization) is under fire. Members have been caught listening to the Voice of America and girls are too slow in signing up as mine-workers.

The National Committee for a Free Europe, Inc., in New York City, received a communication from Budapest describing a student gathering at the Szeged university. A speaker declared, "Hungary is independent only since the Soviet Union has taken us under her wing."

To which a brave heckler shouted, "She is independent of liberty."

Gripings and Dissensions

Hungarians are used to a higher standard of living than the Asiatic Russian level forced on them by their rulers. Hence they balk at increased restrictions, including the rationing of bread, fats and meat. Spartan communist bigwigs have reproved happy-go-lucky factory bosses, who have squandered state funds on lavish parties for friends and workers when they were under strict orders to sweat labor.

Budapest, in an effort to stifle griping against government-made austerity, has recruited snoopers, called "People's Teachers," who tattle-tale on women who complain while standing long hours in food queues. Its agents enter crowded street cars and harangue passengers on the sin of grumbling. The party purge is one of the biggest among satellites, even striking down former cabinet ministers.

Bulgarian refugees in terror of their lives are streaming across the borders to escape the purges and oppressions of Premier Vuko Chervenkov. Small farmers slaughter their water-buffaloes, sheep and cows rather than give them to collective farms. Fodder is not gathered and horses are turned loose, often to die of starvation. Peasants, caught by the secret police, are severely punished.

Repressions and persecutions

The magnitude of the Czech dissensions has been frequently disclosed by this column and in the press. Several different types of repression occur. Slovak bishops, for example, have been sentenced for circulating mimeographed copies of "illegal" pastoral letters that announced the Vatican's excommunication of Communists. Clergymen are constantly threatened in an attempt to persuade them to break away from Rome.

The arrests of former Foreign Minister Dr. Vladimir Clementis, Madame Marie Svermova and Otto Sling have brought out a new type of accusation. Prague, instead of branding their deviation "Titoism"—which basically it is—has charged them with "Slingism" in order to prevent the famous Belgrade pioneer rebel from receiving credit for inspiring pupils in the Czech communist hierarchy.

President Klement Gottwald is ruthlessly persecuting the trio and their followers to clear his own skirts with Stalin. The three were his close friends. He, himself, is an old trade union nationalist, who in a newspaper interview in 1947 maintained that Russia should not expect to impose the same system everywhere as each land had its own traditions and requirements.

Today, 1951, that sensible opinion on independent nationalism, expressed by Clementis and others, is held to be rank heresy, its spokesmen liable to drastic penalties.

Fomer Heroes Now Villains

Now the Gottwald government pictures Clementis—once pure enough to be Czechoslovakia's chief delegate at the United Nations in New York—as "a snake and spineless double-crosser of unfathomable moral depravity." Sling, former Slovak Communist Party secretary, is accused of dickerings with western espionage.

Art Exhibition With Bazaar

The Punchard art exhibit will take place at an earlier date than usual this year as it is to be held in conjunction with the school bazaar Friday and Saturday, Apr. 13, and 14.

The exhibition of the work of the pupils of Miss Frances Dalton, which includes the eighth and ninth grades as well as the high school, will be shown in the music room. The PTA has generously given $25 for prizes.

Judges will be Miss Butler, art instructor of the North Andover schools, Alicia Waterston, artist, and Maud Morgan, artist.

All of the work has been done from imagination, life or memory. The best work of the year will be shown with the exception of the paintings that were chosen to be sent to the Pittsburg scholastic art exhibition.

Phillips Academy

Phillips academy last week reopened for the spring term, and this Saturday, Apr. 14, offers the first program of athletic events. Coach George Follansbee's baseball nine opens up with one of its toughest games of a 15 game schedule, opposing the Yale Freshmen. Sure to be in the opening lineup and high up in the batting order is Joe Wennick of Andover. A second baseman last year, Wennick is likely to open this season at the short stop berth. In addition to his steady and sometimes brilliant fielding, he hits a long ball, and it was his extra base drive against Exeter which broke open that 1950 classic.

At the same time Coach Steve Sorota's tracksters seek a fast getaway against another worthy foe - Harvard Freshmen. With all of the winter track stars available, and aided additionally by such personnel as all-time great Bob Kimball, Sorota hopes to eke out a win.

During the recent spring vacation, the academy basketball team started something new by playing in the Eastern Interscholastic championships held at Glen Falls, N.Y. Hampered somewhat by a two-weeks lack of practice, Frank DiClemente's team opened slowly against the Hill School in the first round and never caught up. Next, a nip-and-tuck battle against New Jersey champs Carteret academy ended with a three point loss. But in the finale Andover trimmed St. Michaels in another thriller.

Other Academy activity for this week includes the Phillips academy Dance Band "The Aces" benefit performances for the Punchard bazaar on Apr. 13 and 14. This student band, organized in 1950, has developed into a well trained smooth performing outfit, which has played at several school dances in the Merrimack Valley area and which includes several specialty performers. The proceeds of the Punchard bazaar will go toward financing athletic and extra-curricular activities at Punchard.

Adopts New Policy On Overdue Records

On and after Monday, Apr. 16, the library will establish a new rate for recordings which are kept overtime. In place of the usual fee of two cents a day for each record, there will be a flat charge of 10¢ a day for each album borrowed, regardless of the number of recordings in that album. This number can and does range from one to seventeen.

All recordings are loaned for a period of one week. At present, 10 separate records or a total of 10 records, of which only one may be a long-playing album, is the limit which may be taken by any one person. As the music section grows, this number may be increased.

There has been no change in the overdue charge for recordings borrowed from the young people's room.

PTA COUNCIL

agents and of plotting to assassinate President Gottwald.

Madame Svermova, widow of the nationally acclaimed communist resistance hero and former deputy secretary of the Communist Party, is charged with covering up Sling's "treachery." She is officially described as an "opportunist unbolshhevik weakling who enjoyed criticizing Russia." An ironic sidelight is that the government is calling in a postage stamp because it commemorates her.

Gottwald has his own peculiar explanation of the three "plotters." In an alibi document he writes, "During the occupation, the Gestapo recruited its Czech agents from concentration camps and torture cells. When Hitler was vanquished, the Gestapo sold its index cards to Americans. Now Americans aim a pistol at these ex-agents' heads and compel them to work for Americans."

He goes on to say that the present deviationists are either former Gestapo agents or were influenced by them to turn traitor.

Current puppet troubles may spark dangerous civil wars. Or they may restrain Moscow ambitions. None knows the full answer—yet.

OF THE LION AND THE MOUSE.

THERE was a Lion that was once very kind to a mouse, and saved his life from the claws of a cat. Some time after this, the Lion was caught in a net in such a manner, that he lay there struggling till he was half dead.

One of the pages from "Children's Books of Yesterday" shown at the Memorial Hall library in the exhibit which the town library, the Oliver Wendell Holmes library of Phillips academy and the Addison Gallery are sharing in a display from the Good Housekeeping collection. The fable of "The Lion and the Mouse" is familiar to everyone.

Many Townspeople Aid Andover Home For Aged

Last fall the board of managers of the Andover Home for Aged People sent out its annual appeal to the good people of Andover for financial aid so that they could continue to maintain a comfortable home for the old folks who live at 4 Punchard ave.

Despite the fact that the appeal came at a time when the demands upon the public's purse were never more numerous and pressing, the response was most generous. It enabled the board to make some necessary repairs to the property that were long overdue. ## Vale Scouts Get New Headquarters

A committee representing boy scout troop 76 of Ballardvale was granted permission by the selectmen Monday night to be custodians of the community room at the Vale.

They will make it the headquarters for the scouts, have charge of letting it to other organizations, and will be responsible for its general upkeep.

The committee from the Vale which met with the selectmen to affect these arrangements was: Elwin Russell, P. W. Moody, Arnold Schofield, the Rev. Paul E. Callahan, Charles Milligan and James Butler.

The selectmen also conferred with prospective buyers of the two lots of land adjacent to the infirmary garage on Carmel rd., which the town meeting voted to sell.

Francis X. Beirne, Police clerk was appointed a public weigher. George Craig, 13 Casimere st., was granted a junk license with the provision not to store his collection in town.

Word was also received from Claude M. Fuess, former headmaster of Phillips academy, that he was engaged in writing the history of Andover which was authorized a few years ago, and intended to spend the spring and summer on the work.
